FIRST BREAKOUT SESSION

Thursday, October 15, 1998

2:15 pm - 3:00 pm

Title: Power at the Work Place
Presenter: Michael Bugeja, Ph.D., Ohio University School of Journalism
Location: The Sandpiper

Power at the Work Place. All of us talk about it. But few of us talk openly about it. Power. Who has it, who abuses it. In this PowerPoint and Macromedia presentation, nationally known ethicist and special assistant to Ohio University President Robert Glidden, Michael Bugeja, explains power basics and bases, with particular attention to harassment issues. You'll also learn about anger and fear at the work place ... and how to overcome them, using leadership skills. Bugeja focuses on media and technology - issues that influence our perceptions, especially about women. But his presentation is meant for everyone, with the goal of building morale and motivating both employee and supervisor.
